

Global Finance Grades The World's Central Bankers 2016

NEW YORK, September 1, 2016 — Global Finance magazine has named the heads of the Central Banks of Israel, Lebanon, Paraguay, Peru, the Philippines, Russia, Taiwan and the United Kingdom as the World's Best Central Bankers over the past year, in recognition of their achievement of a prestigious "A" grade on Global Finance's Central Banker Report Cards 2016. In addition, the Central Bankers of Jordan, Mexico, Morocco and the United States earned "A-" grades.

The Central Banker Report Cards, published annually by Global Finance since 1994, grade the central bank governors of nearly 75 key countries (and the European Union) on an "A" to "F" scale for success in areas such as inflation control, economic growth goals, currency stability and interest rate management. ("A" represents an excellent performance down through "F" for outright failure.) Subjective criteria also apply.

Global Finance publisher and editorial director Joseph Giarraputo notes, "Central bankers today are tackling unprecedented challenges from political upheavals and low commodity prices as well as employment rates that remain weak despite record low interest rates. Wise monetary policy can mitigate the negative impacts of political and economic change, but requires stiff resolve to navigate competing interests and visions. As these scores demonstrate, some central bankers are more constrained by circumstance than others, while some have shown remarkable agility in driving policy."

The full Central Banker Report Cards 2016 report will be published in the October issue of Global Finance.
